We the assumption that the disp and input were the cin and cout respectively that are printed in ast.

To run our code first put make into the terminal then make test. This should produce a file that has the errors